OSEI II ENZYME IN OIL SPILL

Steven Pedigo CEO of the ISSO Company

Bogota, July 7, 2015

It was held in the Hotel Four Point Sheraton in Bogotá, the first day of presentation of biological enzyme OSEI II coming to Colombia for the bioremediation of disasters caused by oil spills anywhere, region or area country needed the presence of this new technology.

Before a large presence made up of representatives of several operating companies, transporting oil, Armada Nacional DIMAR and government entities as ANH and ANLA, was the presentation of the enzyme that converts into CO₂ and water spilled oil in a few days , results that have been seen in various parts of the world as was the experience in November 2013 off the coast of Nigeria, where the effectiveness of the product was demonstrated using it to the attention of a spill of more than 150,000 gallons of crude oil and thanks to the benefits of this technology bioremediation, the affected area was completely clean of oil spilled in this area, as explained CEO Steven Pedigo OSEI.

During the doubleheader considerable interest from guests wanting to attend this event on Wednesday from 9:00 am to locations near Chia Cundinamarca, to witness field testing to be conducted to the product it was evident and where they hope to determine its scope and benefits in constant oil spills that occur in the various activities of the chain of the oil industry in Colombia.
